Gender, Women, & Sexuality Studies
Irune Gabiola
igabiola@butler.edu

DO YOU OFFER A COURSE THAT COULD COUNT AS A GENDER STUDIES ELECTIVE?

For consideration, please submit your course syllabi with a detailed reading list to Irune Gabiola at igabiola@butler.edu. In your email, please explain how your course fulfills the GWSS elective course criteria (below), indicate how often the course is offered, and include the names of the faculty members who teach the course. The GWSS curriculum committee will review your application.

GWSS Elective Course Criteria:

We welcome courses that stem from gender and/or sexuality as a primary analytical category:

- 1. Courses must use a gendered hermeneutic or framework.
- 2. Courses must incorporate a strong emphasis on intersectional analysis of multiple dimensions of identity and inequality.
- 3. Course content pertaining to gender should be not merely descriptive but should integrate broader theoretical debates within feminist, gender, women’s and sexuality studies.
- 4. Courses should consider the historical, cultural, political and social experience of diverse communities.